

Discover Heating and Air Offers Services to Property Owners and Residential Customers

Discover Heating and Air, a private HVAC repair firm, is pleased to offer their expert services to property owners and residential customers in the Kansas City, Missouri metropolitan area.

Lee's Summit, MO April 10, 2013 – Discover Heating and Air has serviced the heating and cooling needs of private investment property owners since the beginning of 2012. At the request of their associates, Discover Heating and Air has decided to offer their HVAC repair services to all property owners and residential customers in the Kansas City, Missouri metropolitan area.

Discover Heating and Air was founded by a group of real estate investors and contractors. With over 60 years of combined experience, they found they needed better, quicker and more economical heating and air service for their properties. As property owners, they saw the need for a company that was willing to diagnose problems and repair HVAC systems, not just try to sell expensive new units. Out of necessity for a job done right, they did it themselves and Discover Heating and Air was born.

“My name is Kevin Foster, and I am a Kansas City area real estate agent. I have called Discover Heating and Air for repairs to HVAC systems of properties I have listed for sale when repairs are needed. I have also referred Discover Heating and Air to my clients and some of which have also used their services. Discover Heating and Air has always been quick to react when needed quickly, and they recommend only the work that is needed without trying to sell my clients a whole new system. Their pricing has been lower than most others I have used! I will always call Discover Heating and Air and recommend them to everyone! “

Discover Heating and Air provides licensed and insured service technicians who properly analyze HVAC units and discuss options with their customers – whether it is more cost effective to repair or purchase a new high efficiency unit. To learn about the rising cost of FREON (R-22 refrigerant) and its effect on the decision to replace vs. repair a leaking air conditioner, please go to their blog at: <http://www.discoverhvac.net/blog.html>.

Discover Heating and Air is located in Lee's Summit, MO and services the entire Kansas City, Missouri metropolitan area. They offer new, high-efficiency heating and HVAC system installations and repair, whole house humidifiers, digital programmable thermostats, anti-allergen filters, preventative maintenance programs and 24 hour emergency service calls. Estimates for new systems are free and discounts are provided for seniors and the military.
